Dear parents & carers,

Although any long term closure will cause families lots of headaches, it also presents us with some opportunities. We'll be sending home suggestions of work to do, but many children will still find themselves with time to kill; perhaps they could use some of this to learn a new skill? With that in mind, we're offering to send home any of our spare musical instruments, alongside suggestions of free online music lesson resources, so that your child (or you!) can learn to play.

I know the idea of a novice musician entertaining the household might not be everyone's cup of tea (!) but we do have a range of instruments in school and it feels like such a shame for them to go unused; why not give one a home and learn a new skill together?

If you'd like to borrow an instrument during any school closure, please let us know ASAP using the form below. If there are more requests than instruments, we'll draw out of a hat.

Many thanks,

Mr A Wirth
